CURRENCY AND CREDIT CARD

The monetary unit in France is the euro (€). Bank notes are printed in values of 5, 10, 20, 50, 100, 200 and 500 euros and coins in values of 5, 10, 20, 50 cents and 1 and 2 euros. There is no limit regarding the maximum amount of money to be carried while for travelling. Major credit and debit cards are widely accepted at restaurants, hotels and in shops. You can get cash with your Visa, Mastercard, Maestro or Cirrus card at any ATM machines. ### ELECTRICITY AND ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT

The electric current in France is 220 volts AC in 50 cycles. Plugs and sockets may differ from those in parts of the world. We recommend you bring your adapters for electrical appliances, hotels and shops can supply them, but they are not commonly found.

Adapters are necessary for laptops working on 110 volts.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE FACILITIES

You will find exchange offices called "Travelex" open 24/7 at Toulouse's Airport (Blagnac) (arrival Hall C / departure Hall D) as well as offices within the city center, the latter are closed on Sundays. Ask your hotel reception for closest locations and opening hours.

HEALTH CARE

Your European Health Insurance Card (EHIC) will enable you to access state provided healthcare in France at a reduced cost and sometimes for free.

If you find yourself in a serious, life-threatening emergency, you should go to the accident and emergency (A&E) unit "les urgences" of the nearest hospital.

You should be particularly careful if healthcare arrangements are made by a hotel or travel representative. Any costs incurred for private healthcare are non-refundable.

You can search for health professionals in the area you are staying via the website www.ameli.fr

(information in French only).

In any case, you must pay the practitioner (doctor or dentist) directly. They will then fill out a treatment form (feuille de soins) and a prescription if necessary.

Non-European Economic Area nationals are not covered in France, it is strongly recommended that non-EU citizens purchase commercial health insurance in their home country before arriving in France. Don't forget your documents when preparing your trip.
